MEMORANDUM DECISION ON DC NO. FSH-2

Upon consideration of defendant's motion to quash service and of the opposition thereto, the court is persuaded that service should not be quashed. Moreover, the conduct of the defendant in erecting every roadblock conceivable provides ample basis for excusing service that occurred more than 120 days after the filing of the complaint.

Further, the court is persuaded that, under the circumstances, the third party discovery contemplated by the plaintiff is appropriate and will be permitted.

Accordingly, an order denying the motion to quash service and to dismiss and an order granting the counter-motion to approve

62

1 alternative means of service and to authorize discovery will be
2 issued.
